Victoria is all set for revenge match

NSW SHOULDN'T W ANY EASTER EGGS

New South Wales has named a powerful team to meet Victoria at Olympic Park on Easter Monday.

But the Victorian team is a solid combination and could avenge the narrow 0-1 defeat which New South Wales inflicted under the lights at the South Melbourne Cricket Ground in January.

The 15 visiting players will arrive from Sydney at Ansett-ANA's terminal at Essendon on Sunday night at 9.30, and will stay at the Prince of Wales Hotel, St. Kilda, until they return to Sydney to play Victoria there on Wednesday afternoon, Anzac Day.

They will be accompanied by Mr G. Bayutti, manager; Mr J. Comrie, assistant manager and property steward, and Mr Leo Baumgartner, the coach.

Leo Baumgartner, the coach.
Victorian fans will again have the pleasure of seeing Harry Wenzl in goal for New South Wales. Wenzl is considered to be the most accomplished 'keeper in Australia.
Other New South Wales.
Other Mew South Wales are fullbacks Mach and Sherwin; half-backs Errwin Ninaus, Jimmy and Sherwin; hait-backs Erwin Ninaus, Jimmy Kelly and Angelo Mavro-poulos; and forwards Karl Jaros, Walter Tam-andl, Raff Levey and Her-bert Ninaus

the Victorian team has been carefully selected.
The skill of its individual players is unquestionable, but they have been drawn from seven different from seven different teams, and success will depend on whether they can achieve understand-ing quickly.

EXPERIENCE

EXPERIENCE
However, they are all players with vast experience, and they are experience, and they are experience, and they are experience, and they are experience. The rear defence of Tred Falzon, Dick van Alphen and Cor Mathyssen should provide goalie Henry Gronowski with plenty of sound cover, and the backs should in turn get solid support from wing-halves Frank Micic and Terry Hartley.

The Victorian attack

The Victorian attack has been selected for brains rather than brawn and goals will depend on its speed and cunning.

Hellas makes SOCCER MAN'S DURY 27 winning list

Sth. Melb.-Hellas made the winning list for the first time this season when it beat Lions 3-1 before a crowd of 6000 fans at Olympic Park last Sunday.

Hellas was narrowly beaten by Wilhelmina and Juventus in the first two rounds and appreciated its easier task in the third round.

Lions fielded a team made up of five of its regular players — Dodig, Larusso, Wirt, Kniefel, and Schrey—and six of the players who had just transferred from Richmond — goalie Voigt, the Marth brothers, Kleinert, Landherr, and Duiske.

It was not surprisine that

It was not surprising that ht was not surprising that this experimental team, which had no previous match practice, showed very little combination in the first half.

By the time they began to get acquainted with each other and in the closing stages of the game they were too tired to play constructive soccer.

Any future for the Lions can only be based on hard training and practice—training for fitness, and practice for ball control and understanding.

And if they hope to survive, they must put this program into effect daily for the next few weeks, or until they can play fast and constructive soccer for 90 minutes without looking for a place to lie down.

With their youth and keenness, there is no reason why they cannot put such a campaign into effect.

Hellas led 2-0 at half time Hellas led 2-0 at hair time, and it should have been 6-0. The forwards had plenty of chances, but they seemed to be shooting at the score-board or the Yarra, instead of the net.

After 35 minutes of poor kicking; they tried a different approach — and succeeded. Hatzeleftheriou dribbled the ball right up to Voigt on the goal-line, then flicked it sideways to Tsolakis, who tapped it in from two yards.

Five minutes later, Margarites, who was playing at inside right, drew the defence and passed to Tsolakis, who was right on target for his second goal.

was replaced by Castelunga. Hellas continued to dictate the run of play in the second half, and it was lucky for Lions that their goalie Dieter Voigt, who had shown nervousness and uncertainty in the first half, recovered his confidence after the interval and brought off many clean saves of the type that earned him a good reputation last at 65 minutes.

Although down 0-3 and firing fast, the Lions never stopped trying, and they Castelunga collared it and passed to Duske, who scored with a low shot.

This goal lifted Lions off the bottom rung of the ladder and gave that berth to hapless Moreland.

Best for the Lions were Voigt; F. Marth, Kleinert, and Landberr; and for Hellas, Mantarakes, Margarites, and Tsolakis.

Let's encourage juniors

SOCCER in Victoria is now more popular than ever before, and there is every confidence in the fact that the game will continue to make rapid progress, particularly under the present administrators. However, a vital factor in future progress is that we must make even greater efforts to encourage junior players and junior clubs than we have in the

The soccer players of tomorrow are far more likely to be the schoolboys of today than they are to be importations from overseas.

TWO fundamental ways of tackling the "junior problem" are firstly, to make the sport attractive to a wider group of young Australians than at present, and secondly, to provide good facilities for playing the game and to give the young players proper coaching and advice. A rather radical suggestion made to me recently was that all registered juniors should be given free admittance to all senior grounds, particularly Olympic Park, but on examination, the idea appears to be quite a good one.

It would cost senior clubs and the Federation virtually nothing to grant this concession, but it would give the juniors a sense of really "belonging," and would encourage their ambition to "make the grade" as senior players. We must also have many more interstate and country visits at all levels of junior soccer, so that young boys generally will become aware of the many benefits of playing soccer.

WHILE on the subject of "free" passes, it is worth noting that the Referees' Association has re-newed its request for free admittance to Federation grounds for all official referees on the presentation of their official and current Referees' membership ticket At the recent meeting between the Federation executive and the executive of the Ref's Association, the matter was discussed and will later be brought before the full council. The "old" soccer association's reaction to this type of request was that since referees were paid for their services they should be prepared to pay to watch Sunday games. The other viewpoint is that the financial remuneration alone would attract very few men who did not truly love soccer and have the special kind of courage which this job requires.

It has been suggested that this is a wonderful opportunity for the new Federation to demonstrate real respect and good will for the Referees' Association by granting such a request, which is commonly observed in other States and many overseas countries.

Under the leader-ship of captain-coach. Ken Reid, the Sandringham side is displaying real enthusiasm and ability. Shortly before the season Sandringham transferred goalie John Slade to Alexander (1st Div, Nth.) but former reserve goalkeeper Ronnie Alxeander has fully justified his promotion to the senior team and has the proud record of conceding only one goal in the first three games.

record of conceding only one goal in the first three games.

New stars in the Sandringham line-up include Bryan Laughton, a powerful full-back, and ex-Park Rangers player Jimmy Greenhill, who is now starting to show his real prowess. Today's encounter with Richmond will indicate whether the 'Hammers' have real premiership prospects. The club is currently negotiating for the services of an ex-State League star who could give added punch to the forward line.

'MUST' FOR SECRETARIES

Club Secretaries are reminded that they MUST phone the result of their games immediately after the match to BM 5309 or BM 2284.

THE Federation Secretary/Manager, Mr Stuart Beaton, deserves real recognition for the surprisingly smooth operation of the early rounds of the current competitions.

It is only when it is realised that the recent soccer dispute was not settled until three weeks prior to the opening of the season that one realises the magnitude of the task which has been accomplished.
The task of drawing up the fixtures and the multitude of pre-season activities which usually takes a period of months was condensed into three busy weeks.

I have heard Mr Beaton heipe mildly criticised

of months was condensed into three busy weeks.

I have heard Mr Beaton being mildly criticised for the brevity of his telephone conversations during office hours at Olympic Park, but when it is realised that the Federation, through Mr Beaton, is administering the competition's activity of over 60 clubs, it hecomes remarkable that the secretary/manager is able to be contacted so readily by phone and yet still administer the office affairs so efficiently. A show of the credit for the smooth-running of the Federation office is certainly due to Mr Beaton's capable assistant, Mrs Rogers.

WHILE on the subject of good jobs well done, I feel honorable mention is due to the three official Federation Saturday night broadcasters, Fred Villiers, Morrie Buckner and Stan Stacey. These three men have a wealth of soccer background and their capable handling of the 3KZ Saturday night half-hour is a tribute to their versatility.

is a fribute to their versatury,

It is probably also opportune to again comment on the splendid services to soccer followers which is being given by the "Sporting Globe." Genial "Globe" editor, Mr Geoff Hawksley, was one of the first local pressmen to realise the readership value of the soccerpublic and with the assistance of sub-editor Fred Villiers he has earned the grateful thanks of soccer followers.

However, one suggestion which might improve the mid-week "Globe's" soccer section is the publishing of the First and Second Division League tables, as well as those of the State League. This feature would appeal to a very large number of readers.

player's visit

Tony Crompton, a mer Heidelberg p now stationed in Guinea, fath the Fo Commission, made prise visit to the c. Saturday. He is fortifight's leave.

Hellas player banned

Sabbas Salabassides of Hellas, who was ordered off the field for alleged violent conduct by referee Yel-land in the match against Juventus at Otympic Park, admitted before the Disciplinary Tribunal that he had contacted his opponent with his foot. However, he pleaded that he had been maliciously provoked into retaliation.

retailation.
Contributory evidence satisfied the Tribunal that his explanation was truthful, and Salabassides was suspended for three weeks.

Five weeks for kicking

Croat wing-half Zerjav, who was ordered off by referee Wagner for alleged kicking in the match against J.U.S.T., was suspended for five weeks by the Disciplinary Tribunal.

Maccabi gets heavy fines

Charged before the Disciplinary Tribunal for failure to field Reserve teams on March 31 and April 7, Maccabi Soccer Club was fined £5 for the first offence and £10 for the second.

Bad language not proven

University ace Ellinghaus, who was ordered out of the Heidelberg game for alleged foul and abusive language, was successful in convincing the Disciplinary Tribunal that he does not use bad language, and that he referee must have been involved in a case of mistaken identity. The case was dismissed as not covere. proven.

Banned for two weeks

Player Pannichi of Juventus, who was sent off the pitch in the game against Hellas by referee de Lange for alleged violent conduct, was suspended for two weeks by the Disciplinary Tribunal.

Plea reduces charge

Moreland's Tucker was sent out of the game against Polonia for alleged violent conduct. He pleaded not guilty to the charge before the Disciplinary Tribunal which, after hearing his version of the case, permitted the charge to be reduced to one of ungentlemanly conduct.
This charge was considered proven, and Tucker was suspended for one week.

NEWLY-promoted State League team Lions received a big boost in playing strength last week, when 25 former Richmond-Alemannia players joined their club.

This move could be own choosing.

This move could be own choosing.

Richmond accepted and the relegation-saver of the end of the season for Lions.

A few months ago in the thick of the tussle between Federation and As playing in the thick of the tussle between Federation and accepted all the players to the State League club. Lions had already started to feel the strain form officials for lower division clubs to join them.

Richmond - Alemannia hesitated and let the "deadline" pass, mean the "deadline" pass, mean while a strong section of its club players and officials favored the Federation ideas and initimated that they would like to look out for the Lions! clubs to join them.
Richmond - Alemannia hesitated and let the deadline pass, meanwhile a strong section of its club players and officials favored the Federation ideas and intimated that they would like to join.

Gathering together many strong players, the officials formed the Richmond Soccer Club and went seeking affiliation to the Federaand went seeking affiliation to the Federation.

Federation officials accepted them on a temporaty basis.

Soon after the "fight" began to break-up, the Richmond - Alemannia
Club also sought affiliation to the Federation.

The Pederation had "promised" to enrol all clubs to their nearest former standing in the leagues.

This put RichmondAlemannia into the First Division and left Richmond with nowhere to go.

Both parties were represented at an executive l'ederation meeting last week and the executive decided to avoid any further wrangling.

The proposed Richmond
Club were still not satisfied with the RichmondAlemannia organisation.

So the Federation executives asked the Richmond Club to disband, if the players and officials were given the chance to re-join Richmond Alemannia, or to sign

RESERVABLE REPRESENTATION OF STREET GULLY'S ADVICE TO PLAYERS

Ferntree Gully S.C., in their local paper, have asked their players and juniors to attend the Victoria v N.S.W. game on Easter Monday, at Olyanic Park, with an express purpose in mind. They want their players to see the game and endeavor to learn something from the higher standard of football expected,

This is a good idea many clubs should copy. Ferntree Gully Soccer Club has a new secretary—B, J. J. Vermeulen, 11 Lynette St., Nunawading, Tel. 874-4210.

NGWOOD MAIL: "The opening of Wilhelmina's new stadium at Reilly St. is another step forward in Ring-wood's history as a city. The new soccer stadium is one of the finest in Australia." RINGWOOD MAIL:

STAN STACEY, The Sporting Globe: "Slavia have slowly been developing a style that is a cross between short and long passing."
They use a short pass in the middle and big kicks for allowing their forwards to use the full width of the field.

"This method keeps all their opponents marking of the field.

This method keeps all their opponents marking the Slavia team closely, and gives the Slavs the psychological advantage of knowing that their opponents can't attack and defend at the same time." ¥

ALEX BARR, the "AGE" soccer writer:

By sharing the points with Melbourne: Croat dispelled any doubt whether it is up to top class. This team could be the greatest acquisition the State League has had for some years, as its play-on type of soccer is what the fans enjoy.

players could cause the other State League clubs back in action again next Saturday. [Wow! Some player!] Ametical
